Dec. 9—Kanio, largeny—Sent for 6 months to collision with the authorities, the chamber agreed that goods should be bended. A meeting of the in-habitants was also held, at which resolutions were passed declaring that the Executive ought not to 1 permitted to receive money, taxes, or duties which they were not by law justified in expending, and ought to be resisted; and that, as the Ministry had issued drafts unjustifiably, which had been returned dishonored, they were entitled to the distrust of the community. The disturbance commerced through the Government refusing to permit a Mr. Hedemann to take goods from his bonded store. His clerk opened the bend, and a number of native soldiers oc-cupied it and endeavored to arrest the elerk. The whites, several of whom were armed, determined to prevent the arrest, and a fight was imminent, when the British and German consuls arrived, and the cierk surrendered to them.
